SAFEGUARDING NEWS

What's new?

What is a Safeguarding Partner?

The government announced plans to replace all Local Safeguarding Children Boards (LSCBs) with 3 Safeguarding Partners by September 2019. Under this new plan, each locality will have access to its own dedicated team of Safeguarding Partners who will work collaboratively to strengthen the child protection and safeguarding system in your local area. The Safeguarding Partners will be a team of key professionals from three sectors: the local authority; the clinical commissioning group for any area that falls under the local authority; and the chief officer of police for any area that falls under the local authority.

The Prevent duty became law back in 2015. This is a duty on all providers to have due regard to preventing people being drawn into terrorism. In order to protect individuals, you must be alert to any reason for concern. This includes awareness of the expression of extremist views.

acting against abuse

British values have been introduced to promote equality and community cohesion and specifically to counter extremism.

Female genital mutilation is physical abuse, and whilst it is perceived by parents not to be an act of hate, it is harmful, it is child abuse and it is unlawful. It has long lasting significant implications for those who have the procedure performed on them. Call police on 101 if you have information about FGM including where this is happening, who is carrying it out, or believe a child may be at risk. In an emergency, dial 999.
